“Intercept Oral Drug Test”

An Interactive Web Tutorial for Quest Diagnostics, Inc.

This program is just one module in a series of web-based, on-demand training tools for Quest Diagnostics corporate customers. It teaches administrators how to properly collect and document an oral drug test. Three similar modules on Hair Testing, DOT- and non-DOT Urine Screening were also developed by Hall Media Productions.

At the training center of www.employersolutions.com, registered users have their own login and personal portal, where they can view their training options, historical data, modules completed, test scores, and certifications. The database also enables supervisors to track their employees' progress and performance.

All training is self-administered and fully interactive. Concepts are presented in text, through video and animated demonstrations, and by responses to queries, so learning is enhanced.

Comprehension is tested by quizzes after each section and at the end of the module. Final exam scores determine whether or not the trainee receives a certificate of completion or has to repeat the module.
